Methodology:
This SurveyMonkey study was conducted between March 30 - April 7 among a national sample of 841 adults in the UK, 736 in the Netherlands and 743 in Ireland. Respondents for this survey were selected from the more than 2 million people who take surveys on our platform each day. The modelled error estimate for this survey is plus or minus 3.0 percentage points for the UK, and plus or minus 3.5 percentage points for the Netherlands and Ireland. Sampling was balanced for age, sex, and geography using demographic data from the United Nations to reflect demographic composition of each country.
